“ARE YOU READY?”

The above question is open-ended. “Ready for what?” is the underlying condition. In the home, the question is frequently asked as family members prepare to leave together. Assuming a time of departure has been set, whoever gets ready first has the distinct privilege of asking the “Are you ready?” question. While such a question can become both a source of annoyance and frustration, depending on whether you are the one asking or receiving the question, checking on the readiness of others serves a valid purpose: arriving on time.

Readiness is also an essential aspect of victorious Christian living. Putting on the “full armor of God” enables us “to stand firm against the schemes of the devil” (Eph. 6:11). Such preparation comes through “the gospel of peace” (vs. 15). It is worth noting that the gospel prepares us both to stand firm and move forward in the advancement of the cause of Christ. Peter agrees, telling us to “prepare [our] minds for action...” (1 Pet. 1:13). Sports enthusiasts understand what it means when a coach yells: “Get your mind in the game!” Getting our mind in the game begins with setting it “on the things above” where Christ is “seated at the right hand of God” (Col. 3:1-2). Why is this important? Because Jesus is our only hope of eternal glory (1 Tim. 1:1; Col. 2:17). In Him are “all spiritual blessings” (Eph. 1:3). “In Him we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of His grace which He lavished upon us” (Eph. 1:7-8). How does one come into Christ? A penitent believer comes into Christ by being united with His death, burial, and resurrection in baptism (Rom. 6:3-4). Subsequently, “newness of life” is descriptive of a “light-walker” living in a state of readiness through the continual cleansing of Christ’s blood (1 Jn. 1:7). Are you ready? Remember, the “Son of Man is coming at an hour when you do not think He will” (Mt. 24:44).
